

Central Arkansas win in OT at Seattle

SEATTLE - Mathieu Kamba's dunk with 22 seconds to go in overtime broke an 88-88 tie and gave Central Arkansas an eventual 92-90 win at Seattle.

After Kamba's dunk, Jordan Howard and DeAndre Jones each hit a free throw to put the Bears up 92-88 before Morgan Means' lay-up at the horn provided the final margin.

Howard ended the game with 30 points for Central Arkansas, which also received 17 points and six blocks from Hayden Koval; 13 points, eight rebounds, and six assists from Matthew Mondesir; and 10 points and six rebounds from Kamba.

Seattle was paced by Richaud Gittens and his 25 points and 11 rebounds. Matej Kavas had 21 points; Jordan Hill posted 19 points, nine rebounds, and 10 assists; and Aaron Menzies had 19 points and 12 rebounds.
